

Exploratorium

Thousands of short, engaging videos from across the curriculum, many of which have experiments or interesting extension activities to go with them.

<https://www.exploratorium.edu/explore>

National Geographic Explorer Talks

Watch explorers talk about their amazing explorations to distant corners of the world

<https://www.nationalgeographic.org/events/watch/>

National Geographic Videos

Filter content by grade or watch any of this wide range of videos that teach us about our amazing world.

https://www.nationalgeographic.org/education/resource-library/?q=&page=1&per\_page=25&content\_type\_category=Video

Ted Talks

Filter content by topic and duration to find suitable subjects. A large variety of topics are available to cover a range of interests.

<https://www.ted.com/talks>

PechaKucha

A guide to visual storytelling with a wide range of interesting topic choices. A great platform to learn about and practise how to make engaging presentations.

Watch videos: <https://www.pechakucha.com/categories>

Create your own: <https://www.pechakucha.com/pkcreate>

AnimalWonders Montana

Animal Wonders is a non-profit organization that rescues animals. Its youtube channel shows how amazing these animals are and how to take care of them.

<https://www.youtube.com/user/Anmlwndrs>

CGP Grey

C.G.P. Grey is an educational Youtuber. His channel features short and humorous explanatory videos on varying subjects, including politics, geography, economics, history, and culture. (Note: his videos are not made specifically for young people.)

<https://www.youtube.com/user/CGPGrey>

Live Science

Short, clearly explained science videos on a wide range of topics. (Note: these videos are not made specifically for young people.)

<https://www.youtube.com/user/LiveScienceVideos>

The Kid Should See This

These amazing videos are sure to get you interested in lots of new ideas. Explore by subject or watch at random. There's plenty to enjoy.

<https://thekidshouldseethis.com/>

Crash Course

This YouTube channel is run by John Green (the author) and his brother. It has short, fascinating videos that are packed with information and always interesting. There are lots of different subjects, so dive in!

<https://www.youtube.com/user/crashcourse>