Superhero Adventures: Dragon Master

Setsuna was just a young, 16-year-old girl who went to school every day. What nobody knew was that she was the daughter of a great and powerful dog demon, and that she had the ability to control the elements.

Setsuna has saved her village and the world several times. She once defeated an evil dragon with a thousand heads who lived underground. Another time, she trapped an evil witch who was trying to take over the world with her army from the underworld. Yet another time, she stopped and befriended the kitsune demon who wanted to take the world back to the Feudal Era.

Setsuna had a sister named Towa. The sisters were very similar. They had the same powers and similar personalities. They were both brave and willing to risk everything to defeat their enemies and take on the next challenge. Unfortunately, this often resulted in them making reckless decisions.

Now, you might be wondering, how did they get their elemental powers? Well, you see, they were just returning to their village from a training session when a teal light shone through the forest, blinding everyone in the forest! The sisters transformed into their animal forms and investigated the source of the light. What they found at the source was not one, but two crystals filled with teal water! They grabbed hold of them and all of a sudden, the crystals glowed ominously, and floated towards their necks. A second later, they found themselves wearing matching pendants of their animal forms, made of the same crystal that they had found.

The sisters decided to race home, as it was past dinnertime. While they were running, Towa tripped over a log, but she didn't hit the ground. Instead, she was lifted back up by a column of swirling leaves. Towa looked at Setsuna with wide eyes. Setsuna then tried to summon water from the pond to drink, and she succeeded! They realised that they could control the elements and use them to defeat their enemies! And that was how their powers came to pass.

Now, today was just a normal school day for the sisters, when suddenly, they heard a mighty boom! The ground outside cracked and a humongous dragon shot out of the depths of the earth. "The Humbanger," breathed Towa. "A massive dragon that does twice as much damage as the screaming death."

The sisters left a note on their lockers, then jumped out of the window and ran towards the dragon.

The Humbanger rampaged through the streets, tearing down buildings and parks one by one. It was as big as two double-decker buses, and nothing could stop it! Setsuna ran in front of the Humbanger and tried to distract it. Towa tried to hit the creature, but it kept moving, and there was no stopping it from destroying the whole city.

Setsuna had only one choice. She transformed into her animal form and fought face-to-face with the dragon. Meanwhile, Towa started to hack through the thick scales of the dragon, using lava to further melt it down.

The battle raged between the dog and the dragon. But eventually Towa had to give up, as there was simply no more lava left to summon. It looked like the Humbanger was going to win the fight. But at the last minute, Setsuna managed to knock the Humbanger onto its side by using its weight against it. Towa then spied an opening and used the opportunity to cut through the giant stomach of the one-thousand-year-old dragon. With that, the dragon exploded into a million pieces. The sisters used their levitation skills to restore the city, then they ran home.

When they finally arrived home, they took off their armour and had a nice dinner, wondering who their next enemy would be.

(Clarifications from the participant):

Hi, I am Ho Him and I would like to say that in the second paragraph, some of the wordings might have been unable to express what I really wanted to say.

I would like to tell you that first of all, the term "Trapped an evil witch who was trying to take over the world and turn it into her own army in the underworld" is to say that the witch wants to first take over, then make the world into her own army. Next is the term "The kitsune demon who wanted to turn the world back to the Feudal Era" is to say that the Kitsune wanted to take the world back to the time of the Feudal Era, in other words, not bring it back into the Feudal Era, and instead making the present time "Feudal Era 2".

I hope you understand what I am trying to say and make some changes to the story. Thank you.
